

Recycling & eWaste Programs

Mattel offers a mail-back program through its partner, Reverse Logistics Group Americas, Inc. (RLGA), which allows Mattel's customers to return certain Mattel electronic products for recycling free of charge. Access the mail-back program here and follow the instructions to obtain a free shipping label. Upon receipt of the shipping label, simply pack your product, affix the label to the package and send your covered electronic device for responsible recycling.

Illinois

For information on recycling options for Illinois residents, please see the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's electronic waste recycling pages and this information provided by the Illinois EPA.

Maryland

Mattel offers a mail-back program through its partner, Reverse Logistics Group Americas, Inc. (RLGA), which allows Mattel's customers to return certain Mattel products for recycling free of charge. Access the mail-back program here and follow the instructions to obtain a free shipping label. Upon receipt of the shipping label, simply pack your product, affix the label to the package and send your covered electronic device for responsible recycling. If you require packaging, it will be supplied, upon request, free of charge to Maryland consumers.

To wipe all data from your nabi tablet please delete all personal information stored on your tablet. To perform a factory reset on your nabi tablet, visit nabitablet.com/support for assistance on performing a factory reset.

New York

In New York State, Mattel is a member of the RLGA Collective Electronic Waste Acceptance Program registered with the State Department of Environmental Conservation and in compliance with the New York State Electronic Equipment Recycling and Reuse Act. This program provides convenient methods for consumers of Covered Electronic Equipment to return their products at end of life for environmentally sound recycling. Learn more about this program here.

Pennsylvania

In Pennsylvania, Mattel is a member of the RLGA Group Plan registered with the State Department of Environmental Protection and in compliance with the Pennsylvania Covered Device Recycling Act. This program provides convenient methods for consumers of Covered Devices to return their products at end of life for environmentally sound recycling. Learn more about this program here.

Virginia

Mattel offers a mail-back program through its partner, Reverse Logistics Group Americas, Inc. (RLGA), which allows Mattel's customers to return certain Mattel products for recycling free of charge. Access

the mail-back program here and follow the instructions to obtain a free shipping label. Upon receipt of the shipping label, simply pack your product, affix the label to the package and send your covered electronic device for responsible recycling.

New Jersey

In New Jersey, Mattel is a member of the RLGA Group Plan registered with the State Department of Environmental Protection and in compliance with the New Jersey Electronic Waste Management Act. This program provides convenient methods for consumers of Covered Devices to return their products at end of life for environmentally sound recycling.

Learn more about this program here.

For all other states not listed above, please click here.